UWGB'S MENTORING PROJECT

I was skeptical at first as I never had a mentor and didn't know what to expect. I can honestly say, after only meeting my mentor for the first time, I know that this is going to be a great professional tool for me to grow as a business professional.

Did you know you can get a mentor in your career field
this year?

The Mentoring Project is open to all First Generation students in the Cofrin School of Business. Whether you want insights into your career field or someone to learn from about going through college, get matched with a mentor who has similar lived experiences and interests as you. Meet once a month during the academic year in a format (in person, phone, Zoom, text, etc.) and schedule that works for the two of you.
